Headline:
Bright, but some showers Kent, Sussex. Isolated heavy showers later.

Today:
Sunny spells, and isolated showers at first, mainly across Kent and Sussex. Cloud then building, with more widespread showers by the afternoon, although many parts staying dry. A few heavier showers then possible, with the chance of thunder and hail. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Tonight:
Evening showers fading, with a cold, clear night and light winds following. Some thin cloud spreading east early Tuesday morning, but mist and fog patches possible where skies remain clear. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Tuesday:
Bright, sunny start, although thickening cloud and a strengthening breeze spreading east through the morning. Staying dry, and feeling rather mild. Perhaps the odd shower moving into English Channel coasts. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Rather cloudy and windy, but likely dry. Best of any brighter or sunny spells in the east. A chance of rain, mainly Thursday in the west and later Friday. Mild.
